City Council seeks volunteers for task forces

Sierra Madre City Council is looking for volunteers to man task forces on the planters/pots and the design for a median down Sierra Madre Blvd.; for a parking committee, for assistance in a recycling/waste management plan for the city; and for dealing with the economic redevelopment of the city.

Those who have any interest in any of these issues should pick up an application at city hall.

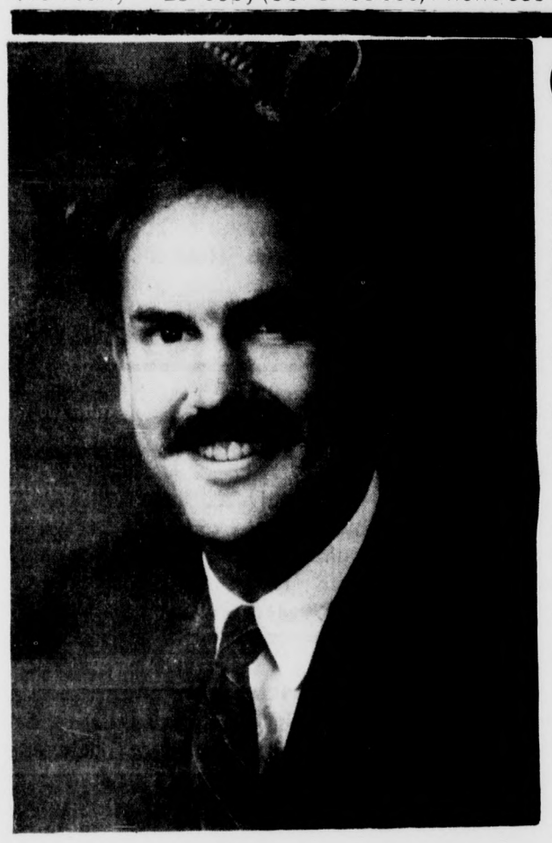

The Sierra Madre City Council Tuesday evening accepted the bid of Air-Tro to install an air conditioning system, for $7180, in the police and fire facility.

They also granted residents of North Lima permission to have Edison Electric change out existing incandescent lights to high pressure sodium vapor and improve the street lights. The conversion will not cost the city except for the increase in energy usage.

Mayor George Maurer reappointed Bill Sullivan to the Parks and Recreation Commission.

It has been brought to the attention of the City Council by the Parks and Recreation Commission that the community garden area in Memorial Park has become unsightly due to the lack of ongoing maintenance by some of the persons renting garden plots. Plots are presently available for rent for $10 per quarter. There are 12 plots in the garden, each which is rented through June 30, 1990 or beyond. The council noted that particular rules concerning garden upkeep had been set down in writing and if these rules are enforced, the problem should be solved.

The council set the first budget hearing for this Thursday, July 12, at 6 p.m. at the council chambers. The public is invited to attend all hearings.

Bill Garr

Bill Garr becomes full partner in law firm

William Garr of Sierra Madre has been made a partner with Hahn and Hahn law firm in Pasadena.

Garr, who was born and raised here, graduated from La Salle High School and from USC law school with honors in 1984.

Garr, the son of Bill and Jean Garr, also of Sierra Madre, served on the ad hoc zoning review committee a year ago and has been an active preservationist.

His wife, Donna, is a lawyer with Sanwa Bank.

His mother has a realty company, Garr Realty, in Arcadia.

Search and Rescue fund over $2000

The Sierra Madre Search and Rescue Team PA system fund has gone over $2000 as of Tuesday morning.

It stands at $2045.69.

Added to those were were listed in The News last week as donors are the following:

Sally Hansen, Lorance W. Lisle and George and Alexandra Lafkas in memory of Bud Van De Verg who died recently.

Others include Mary Jane and Richard Charleton, James and Sarah O'Toole, Sam Perlof, Celeste McCreary, Edwin and Virginia Blair, Barbara Wilson, David Felt, Eleanor Davis, Ross Tyree, Renee Copeland, Dennis Gertmanian, De la Torre Construction, Ursula Petrotta, Thomas W. Williams, Aytla G. Spencer, Margaret V. Ascher, Avedis and Nelly Constantian, R.W. and Phyllis Schmidt and Sierra Madre Civic Club.

Russell Anderson, treasurer of Search and Rescue, said, "We are overwhelmed by the wonderful response. All money above the $1500 needed for the public address system will go directly into our treasury for general rescue team expenses. Again, our sincere thanks."

Bartolai introduces suggestion of two consecutive terms only

"There is a wealth of volunteer talent in the community available that remains untapped," Councilman Clem Bartolai said this week. He was referring to his recent request that appointments of commissioners be limited to two consecutive terms.

"There is a relatively low turnover on commissions. This is a direct result of not having a term of office limitation under the present appointive system," Bartolai continued.

"There is no way to gracefully request that a commissioner leave office at the completion of a term without offending that person with the indirect implication that maybe something has been wrong with his/her performance or that there is someone better suited for the job."

Bartolai noted that changes in the composition of the City Council "has its own way to directly affect changes in the desires of the residents of the community since the council approves appointments to commissions and committees.

"They should not be hamstrung by having to live with appointees who may have come from councils years ago."

Bartolai went on, "Limitation of two consecutive terms with a two-year break would then permit an individual to apply along with others for an appointment to a board. Furthermore, it would still be the prerogative of the council that after one term, if they prefer not to reappoint an individual for any number of reasons, they would retain that option."

He believes that a term limitation will improve the composition of the membership "and allay any possibility of ill-feelings and ingratitude to those who have worked hard in their respective offices.

Police seek return of nitrous oxide cylinder

A tank of nitrous oxide, stolen Monday evening from a dentist's office in the 100 block of Sierra Madre, would be fatal if inhaled in a confined area or through a mask, said Sierra Madre Police Agent John Cordische, Tuesday evening.

The nitrous oxide is used as an anesthetic by the dentist.

The police are more interested in getting the tank back than in arresting someone, Cordischi stated, "because of the extreme danger of the nitrous oxide. We just want to get it off the streets."

Cordischi described the container as "a foot in diameter and five or six feet tall."

He said the tank is blue with a blue hose. There is a white sticker on the collar that identifies it as "Lot . #LAG 279X."

Again, the police urge anyone who has seen the container to notify them at 355-1414.

Phase II of Mariposa parking lot calls for grading, planters, curbs

By Ron Hutson

With Phase II of the Mariposa parking lot schedule starting this week, business and property owners adjacent to the lot reviewed construction plans and schedules early Monday with City Administrator Jim McRea. Also available was Stephen Jones, Zimmerman Consulting Engineer project coordinator.

McRea said the project is being done in two phases to provide some shopper and employee parking throughout construction. "You can see Phase I from The Only Place In Town to here behind Sierra Madre Jewelers is useable. Lighting, landscaping and finish work will be done as Phase II is constructed," he explained.

The Phase II construction schedule calls for removal of the existing parking lot asphalt surface to begin this week. Grading will commence the week of July 16. Concrete form work for planters, curbs and a new entrance cut from Mariposa is to follow.

The project is a joint public/private venture facilitated by property owners participation agreements (OPAs) with the city. Conditions in the OPAs permit the city to use private property sites for public parking for a term of 10 years. In return, the city through the Community Redevelopment Agency agreed to improve the site in accordance with a concept development plan previously agreed upon.

The total project includes the North and South Baldwin parking lots as well as the combined Mariposa lots. An estimated $650,000 in CRA and Sierra Madre Finance Authority monies are funding the improvement.

Lighting and landscaping maintenance cost over the 10-year period will be spread among 89 property owners in the city's Parking District No. 1.

Responding to questions, McRea suggested that "Questions of parking time limits and lot use will probably be best handled by City Council's creation of a parking committee under the direction of the existing parking commission.

"An asphalt overlay will be put down on the surface area between the backs of the buildings and the north edge of the parking lot. Discussion continues with property and business owners about improvements to the back of their buildings. A major purpose of this project is not to increase parking, but to make the existing parking more attractive and accessible for use by shoppers and downtown employees," McRea commented.

Some early to mid-morning congestion on Sierra Madre Blvd. may occur when access to store rear entrances is not available to delivery trucks during the next two weeks. McRea explained that a job foreman and superintendent will be on site, and that project coordinator Steve Jones and Main Street project manager, Ron Hutson, will work with business owners to solve problems.

To maximize access to and use of available off-street parking during Phase II construction, McRea stated the city will work with Main Street to provide Dial-A-Ride shuttle service for merchants, employees or interested individuals.

Arrangements for shuttle service can be made by contacting Assistant City Administrator Sean Joyce or Project Manger Hutson by phone at 355-7135.

P&R Commission postponed

The Parks and Recreation Commission will not meet July 16 because of a lack of quorum.

The next regular meeting will be Aug. 20.

Chamber mixer set for July 19

Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce mixer will be held Thursday, July 19 at the home of Marjorie Peterson, and the nursery school, Mama Pete's, on Suffolk.

Co-host of the mixer will be the Sierra Madre News.

The mixer starts at 5:30 p.m. and the cost, $3.50, covers two drinks and free snacks.

Members of the foothill communities are invited to attend.

Bridgeland state Teen Pageant finalist

Cynthia Bridgeland of Arcadia, daughter of Janis Justice, also of Arcadia, has been selected as a state finalist in the Miss California American Teen Pageant to be held Aug. 24 and 25 at the Los Angeles Airport Marriott Hotel.

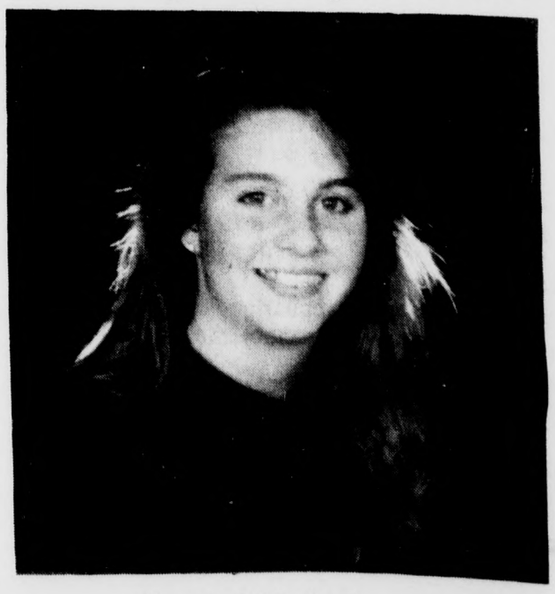

Cynthia, 16, was born and raised in Arcadia. She attended Camino Grove Elementary School and Dana Junior High and will be a junior at Arcadia High School next school year. She is a member of Short Flags for next year, also.

She told The News that she wants to be in the entertainment business and says, "I'm headed for USC."

Cynthia has a brother, Chris, 19, who studies music at M.I.T.

Miss California Teen for 1990 will win a cash award, $400 in travel expense to Florida for the national event, and a day in Disneyworld in November.

Cynthia is being sponsored by Ed Justice Sr., Donna Roberts and Family, the Stephenson family and her mother.

In support of Bartolai's suggestion

We support Councilman Clem Bartolai's suggestion that consideration of limiting appointments to two consecutive terms for commissioners be adopted by the City Council.

According to word from city hall, the Sierra Madre Library Board of Trustees has already adopted that policy.

Bartolai put it succinctly when he told the council at the last meeting that there were so many talented individuals out there who might wish to serve on one of the commissions; however, these same people might feel reticent to "put their hats into the ring," so to speak.

Bartolai's suggestion makes this possible. He has opened a door to welcoming other talent, so far unknown, to serve on one of our various important commissions.

We agree with Councilman Bartolai that committees should probably be treated differently since these volunteers more or less set their own pace and purge their own groups. Those who work, stay, and those who don't, go.

We urge the City Council to adopt the "two terms and you're out, wait a term and apply once more," routine. It can't hurt and it may just give more people a chance to participate.

Hats off to Doug

They did it again — the Fourth of July Committee, headed by Doug Hayes, that is.

A great parade; ran like clockwork. A+. Activities, A+. Food, A+. Another great volunteer activity.

Before she moved away from Sierra Madre recently, Barbara Godley suggested a column for the Volunteer of the Month. We asked her how in the world just one volunteer a month could be chosen. However, maybe this is our chance to start the Volunteer of the Month with Doug Hayes and his crew. This small committee, much like the Beautification Committee, can get more done. It's amazing.

So, hats off, Doug. You're our Volunteer of the Month.

Under the Pepper Tree

by Jan Reed

● We received a call from Washington, D.C. Tuesday morning with some very exciting news about a Sierra Madre sailor.

Machinest Mate First Class Kevin W. Giles, son of Margaret Marsh of Sierra Madre, is being honored as Sailor of the Year.

Although the Navy could fax me the information, I could not receive a photo, so you'll have to wait until next week for the particulars.

Our heartiest congratulations to you, Kevin and Mom Margaret.

● Is anyone here interested in statistics? I enjoy hearing trivia about our town such as how much lemonade the Masonic Lodge gave away on July 4 when the parade rolled past them. Sam Simpson told us they gave away 60 gallons of lemonade and 60 cups of coffee plus dozens and dozens of cookies.

You can imagine how much parade participants enjoyed that thirst-quenching liquid on that hot day.

● Doug Hayes says he and Celeste McCreary gave away 104 lbs. of candy, 3780 pieces of bubble gum, 720 train whistles, 1152 kazoos and 3400 rubber rats, spiders, centipedes, scorpions and bats.

Matt Grollmus sat on Doug's 1922 REO Speedwagon with Doug and Celeste during the parade and enjoyed tossing out the rubber rodents etc., etc. more than Celeste. She stuck to tossing out candy, thanks.

Celeste, as you know, is Citizen of the Year for 1989 and Doug is chairman of the Fourth of July Committee.

He says, "I'm not really chairman. I just shuffle the most paper."

● Several people have asked us why Harbor Patrol, Sierra Madre Yacht Club or SMUG were not visible this year. We picked up a new one — Sierra Madre Fluorescent Clothing float. Brilliant, to say the least.

● Anyway, it was a great parade. Perhaps the greatest. But then we always say that, don't we?

● Following the quip in last week's Pepper Tree about our Volvo changing sexes after being sold from Golden Girl to ?, John Kyl, brother-in-law from Phoenix, wrote, "... We are amazed by your naivete in relation to La Volvo. Do you know know that in Du Gamla Du Fria (The Land of the Free), all bodies are convertible and all parts are interchangeable? ... Next time, try a Honda! The Japanese have a yen but it ends there."

John loves puns as much as the rest of us. Thanks for the enlightening!

● It was exciting to see Melody Lomboy on television Sunday evening. Did the rest of you observe her receiving the Victor Award? Again, our congratulations to you, Melody.

Someone stopped Donna Harriman, recreation supervisor, and told her that her chicken had died. She queried a bit further and it seems that the duck ride in Memorial Park had lost its springs. There was no more spring in its step nor waddle in its walk.

Never fear, Donna says. She is having the kiddie ride fixed pronto.

● Harry Martin told us recently that he was making homemade ice cream. We asked him when it was being served and he said that was classified information.

Then he told us that a neighbor child came over recently and asked when the ice cream would be ready. He asked her how she knew he was making ice cream and she said, "I heard you grinding." Ice cream machines do make an unforgettable sound. My mouth is watering, Harry.

● Rosalie Rose's son and daughter-in-law were here from the East for the parade and stopped in to say hello. They continue to read The News and say they enjoy hearing about what's happening in our town ...

● We had a mind-sobering release from Caltech recently. the headline, "The Sun Changes Its Tune, Say Caltech Solar Astronomers," piqued our interest.

They say that the sun is literally changing its tune during the course of the latest solar cycle. The sun's "accoustic mode frequencies" increased in pitch by about one part in 10,000.

The frequencies are far below the level of human hearing but they are definitely there. The deepest tones we can detect have frequencies of about 4000 times higher than than the highest frequencies measured in the study.

● Good heavens, we passed National Columnist's Day and didn't even know it — or observe it.

To all our columnists, Happy Columnist's Day!

It was June 26.

Jim Six, a columnist for the Cloucester County Times in New Jersey, started that day in 1988 in jest. He received an overwhelming response, including letters from Dear Abby, Dr. Joyce Brothers and William F. Buckley.

Congratulations to Californians

There are times when we hear so many negative stories about young people. However, I would like to share some positive feelings about high school students and teachers from across Southern California who were recently in Washington to participate in the Close Up Foundation government studies program.

For a full week the 786 participants from Southern California had the opportunity to visit Washington to develop a better understanding of our democratic process. While here, they saw and questioned Congressional proceedings, journalists, and government experts and shared their views with students from other areas of the country.

They returned home with a deeper awareness of their responsibilities as citizens and the realization that a single individual can make a difference. Their enthusiasm for involvement in the democratic process is to be admired.

The experience in Washington was possible only through the strong support of their parents, teachers and schools. Also various companies and organizations helped make Close Up fellowships available to students in economic need. Those sponsors include: Burger King, and Pfizer, Inc. Also, the Milken Family Foundation, of the Los Angeles area, is one of the largest sponsors of Close Up's work in citizenship education.

All those who helped make the opportunity a reality deserve special recognition.

A pain in the back for city workers?

Question: Would a town that disregards public health and safety by stationing, along the spine of a two lane road, a stone wall barricade, called "flower pots" by some folks in town, also be capable of endangering the health and safety of its workers?

Anyone observing the two men who had the nasty job of putting the pots back in place Thursday morning about 7 might wonder why these two men had to manually lift, lower and deposit the phalanx of pots without the aid of a hydraulic tailgate on their truck. Even though they may be fit, the men seemed to have great physical difficulty lowering the twenty-five or more pots from the truck.

How much do these "flower pots" weigh? Perhaps five hundred pounds? Surely the $6000 spent on the ill-conceived barricade could have been better invested in equipment to help city workers to do their jobs more efficiently and more safely. Perhaps next time the pots need to be hoisted, Misters Hutson and McRea can provide the manpower.

Thanks to S.M. Police

I wish to thank the Sierra Madre Police Dept. for their quick response to a most startling experience Wednesday night (July 3) because of a barroom brawl at the Buccaneer!

Just a little after 11:30 p.m., while sitting on the sofa watching a Mario Lanza movie, my four-legged bit of fluff that thinks he's a cat instead of a dog flew off the back of the sofa suddenly barking. I turned around and there was a strange man standing in my living room! It took a moment to register that a real person was leaning against my door and that I didn't know him. I said something to the effect of "Who are you and what are you doing here?" He replied, "They're chasing me."

I grabbed the dog and dove for the phone in the kitchen to dial 911 ... and the stranger sat down in my rocking chair to catch his breath. I told him to stay put and not to move — he was very polite and said "I'm sorry, ma'am, but they're after me." I could hear lots of voices outside — and was more concerned about whoever "they" were and that "they" might follow this frightened young fellow right into my house. The police arrived in minutes, the fellow walked out to meet them, was frisked and taken away in handcuffs. The next day I found out what happened.

Apparently, several groups moved to the Buccaneer to continue their holiday celebration. The bar was packed with more people than it could hold, someone said something insulting to the wrong person, and the fight was on, or I should say brawl, as 50 or so people were involved as it spilled out into the parking lot. The police were summoned to close the bar — the fighters scattered into several groups in all directions (sort of like cockroaches when the lights are turned on). The kid in my living room was literally frightened for his life as 6 or 8 locals chased him, led by a person known to us as a loud, short-tempered bully, verbally threatening him with every step.

I feel very fortunate that I only had to deal with a scared young fellow — it could just as easily have been someone on drugs — or worse.

Because of other activities in the past, I have long thought of the Buccaneer a bit sleazy for a nice town like Sierra Madre. Now I'm certain it's a haven for undesirables like the loud, short-tempered bully and others that should not impose their beer/liquor induced shenanigans on the rest of us. Perhaps the new owners can change that image.

Again, SMPD, thanks.

S. Kelly

Thanks from Osti family

A grand day!

We take for granted how very fortunate we are to live in a town like Sierra Madre, a very special community.

We wish to thank the nominating committee and all who were involved in selecting our family to represent Sierra Madre in the 1990 Fourth of July parade.

To the many friends and loved ones along the parade route who made our day so special by their love and kindness, we extend our love and thanks.

A special thanks goes to Doug Hayes and Helen Walker for their extra effort in making our day so special.

The Osti Family

Thanks to our special Doug Hayes

For our wonderful old-fashioned Fourth of July parade, I'd like to say a good old-fashioned "thank you" to Doug Hayes, who once again was this year's parade chairman. He and his committee did an absolutely super job, and of course, it's a project they work on almost all year.

The parade started at the exact moment of 10 o'clock and moved along well with a long list of entries.

Special praise to someone like Doug who brings this all together for us year after year.

Another great Sierra Madre volunteer.

Friends garner $66,000 for library

Friends of the Sierra Madre Library contributed $66,000 to the library, according to President John R. Sommer.

Of that, $24,000 was given to purchase additional books and services for the library, $30,000 went to the Expansion Fund and $12,000 will go toward architectural fees for the plans for the library expansion, Sommer says.

Sommer is the new president with Suzannah Macy as the vice president. Patricia Hofer is past president.

First time officers are Dan Banis, treasurer; and Marlene Enmark, corresponding secretary. Ruth Howell continues as recording secretary. Directors elected include Jayne Kistner, Lisa Wagner, Marie Eckstrom, Alan Ryan, Sally Dewey, William Griffin and Jim Macy.

Past President Patricia Hofer thanked all officers and volunteers at the annual meeting June 29. She also gave special thanks to Ken Crawford who "has done an excellent job as treasurer for the Friends."

Out and About

I daydreamed the other night. A member of our local thin-blue-line spotted a "homeless" type squatting in front of a realty office on our main drag. The cop got out of his car and stood over the man, hands on hip.

"Hey, buddy, whattcha doin' there?"

"Jus' passin' the time." With that he extracted a dirty harmonica from his pocket and started working on a tune that had to have origins in his own bad dreams ... it was abstract but saved from discordance by a smooth note or two.

The cop stopped him. "Hey ... whoa ... what do you call that noise?"

The wayfarer shrugged as though humoring himself at having to explain what was perfectly obvious. "Music, man, it's music."

"It's noise, and you're causing a problem here. People have to walk around you." The man continued humming the tune. "Where you from."

The unfortunate one looked at the cop as a parent would an errant child. "The womb." His eyes then sparkled with mischievous glee, "And you?"

"You got some ID?"

"I might ... then agin, I might not." With that he stared into the cop's face. It was then that the cop noticed a baseball cap inverted on the ground by the man's knee. Inside the cap was a quarter. The cop smiled.

"By the looks of your stash there, I'd say most people don't like your music."

Now the sojouner wore a forced smile. "I bin here, and I bin there ... and lookin' at the whole thing ... looking' at it through my eyes, I can tell ya it ain't the music they don't like."

The cop nodded and left, aware of what the man was telling him. Thirty minutes later, when the policeman drove by, the wandering music maker was nowhere to be seen.

Did it happen? Check it out when you're out and about.

MAIN STREET
By Ron Hutson

The small business owner on Main Street must maximize use of available, affordable marketing tools to survive and prosper. One of these tools is often under-utilized, or worse yet, abused. The telephone is a powerful sales-generating tool.

According to Pacific Bell marketing experts, there are 10 simple guidelines that help maximize the value of each telephone call. While all businesses won't be able to use all techniques, common sense and selection of those applicable to the business situation will pay off with positive results.

The only thing worse that being left on hold is being transferred two or three times to wrong departments. Employee training and visual instructions near each phone can reduce this consumer irritation.

After four or five rings many callers will consider hanging up. See that the phone is answered promptly. If the store is long and deep, consider locating an extension in the back. First impressions are always important, and this is especially true during telephone contact. Be sure your voice is friendly and upbeat. Even the toughest customer will respond favorably to a cordial and professional person on the other end of the line. A simple trick is to put on a smile before picking up the receiver.

It may take longer for customers to explain what they need on the phone than in person. Be patient. Ask questions until you are sure you know what they want. Keep your inquiries simple and avoid using store or product jargon that will further confuse or irritate the caller.

One guideline is so simple it's often overlooked: use the caller's name. If they don't offer their name and you don't recognize the voice, ask and write it down. People appreciate hearing their name, it makes the conversation more personal.

Many callers are shopping by phone. They are looking for price information among other things. Don't quote a price until you're sure you know exactly what the customer needs. If it is a service call, you may want to give both the minimum and maximum prices, or the average cost for the service to be performed.

Sometimes referring the caller to one of your competitors is the best answer. You may lose that sale, but they won't forget you were really concerned about helping them. That kind of service is something customers don't forget. They will tell their friends and neighbors.

Keeping a simple log of caller names, what they were looking for and how they heard about you will help you evaluate the results of your various advertising expenditures.

Always close with a sincere thank you regardless of whether you've made a sale. Leaving a good impression helps ensure that the caller will consider you the next time he or she has a need for your service or product.

Contact Main Street c/o Ron Hutson, Project Manager, 232 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., Sierra Madre, CA 91024. See you on Main Street.

Cool Your Summer Electric Bills.

If your electric bills seem to rise with summer temperatures, you'll be happy to hear this. Edison has all kinds of ways to cool yourself, and your bills, all at the same time. The choice is yours. Setting your thermostat at 78, just a few degrees higher, can help you save.

Try using a fan instead of your air conditioner. When temperatures cool, remember to turn your air conditioner off. Try not to use heat generating appliances, like your washer and dryer, when temperatures are up. And don't cool an empty house when you go out.

An energy-efficient air conditioner can save a bundle. Especially now that Edison is giving rebates. We're giving rebates on energy-efficient refrigerators too.

We've got all kinds of ideas on how to cool your electric bills. We've printed them up for you in a free booklet called "Hot Tips for a Cool Summer." For your copy just call us at 1-800-952-5062, or call our TDD-accessible phone number, 1-800-352-8580.

On Stage

By Mary Cogswell Baum

Back in 1960 there was an unpretentious little B&W movie with a script by Charles Griffeth called "Little Shop of Horrors" which got considerable critical acclaim for its darkly humorous story about a plant that ate fresh blood.

In the late 1970s, two gentlemen named Howard Ashman and Alan Menken made the story into a small musical which caught on, as sometimes happens, and ran for years in LA and elsewhere.

Then in 1986 it became a popular movie, directed by Frank Oz, master puppeteer. The movie was a lot of satiric fun, and the plant, as you can imagine, developed a great deal of personality.

It so happens that I never saw the stage version, and it was with real anticipation that I went to the West Covina Playhouse to see their production. How could any little theater group compete with Frank Oz?

I'm happy to say that my faith in live theater as opposed to filmed theater remains unimpaired. On the stage the story is more compact, and somehow more believable (?) because everything else has to be "let's pretend" too, and the original ending seems more appropriate than the one the movie used.

In other words, the West Covina Playhouse is a find, and their production of "Little Shop of Horrors" is extremely well done. For one thing it has a nearly perfect cast. Kelly Younger has just the right mixture of innocence and confusion about his uncomfortable discovery, Kay Peterson could hardly be bettered as the pretty little waif who stays with a ghastly boyfriend because she has no one else and dreams of being "somewhere that's green," Dane Christopher is an absolute knock-out as the sadistic dentist she dates, playing him as a sort of Elvis-gone-mad.

Less spectacular but equally convincing is Gary Ash as the self-centered Mushnik in whose bankrupt flower shop the story begins, and Rawl Campbell, Marianne Lewis and Barbara Roberts do a fine job as the trio who form a dramatic chorus for the story, explaining, sympathizing and forecasting as they cover the changes of scene. Then, of course, there's Kenny Sherwood as the plant, looking amusingly like something from a first grade pageant as he raps his leaves and shouts "Feed me!"

It's a tricky show to fit on a small stage, shifting from skid row to television studios to the flower shop, but Sandra Roberts, who teaches drama at Bishop Amat High School, proves she knows her stuff and everything moves quickly and unobtrusively.

One tiny drawback: the show is full of clever and sometimes essential lyrics, and while the performers' diction seems entirely adaquate when they sing alone, group numbers get a bit garbled. I'm guessing it is an accoustical problem, common in small theaters, and I would suggest sitting in the middle, since side seats often pick up confusing echoes.

"Little Shop of Horrors" runs through July 29 on Friday and Saturday at 8 and on Sunday at 2, at 911 W. Covina Parkway, West Covina. Call 913-3376 for more information and reservations.

The Summer Drama Festival at Occidental College opens this week with preview performances ($5) on July 12 and 13 and the regular opening on July 14 ($10 and $15). First up is Gilbert and Sullivan's "The Mikado" in the Hillside Theater at 8:30. Shakespeare's "The Comedy of Errors" will also be in the Hillside Theater but Bernard Shaw's "Getting Married" and the new musical, "Tujunga Tanzi" will be in the intimate, indoor Keck Theater. This arrangement allows for more performances since the schedules can overlap.

For more information, and to get on the mailing list, call (213) 259-2772 between 1 and 6 p.m.

Country Western dancing

Country Western dancing will be offered at Pasadena City College, Room W 210, on Wednesday, July 11 - Aug. 29, from 7:30 p.m. - 9:30 p.m. The fee for this non-credit activity is $65. Participants will have fun learning the Five Step, Ten Step, Country Swing and line dances. The last class meeting will be at the Western Connection.

Social dance

Social dance classes will be offered at Pasadena City College on Thursdays, July 12 - Aug. 23, in Room W 201. The classes will be from 6 p.m. - 8 p.m. for persons who wish to attend without a partner and from 8 p.m. to 10 p.m. for couples. The fee for this non-credit activity is $59.

Instructors Lloyd and Rosalie Matlovsky, have been teaching social dance for over 30 years. They have presented demonstrations for DeWald Dance Studio and the Pasadena and Glendale Civic Auditoriums.

'The Mikado'

Gilbert and Sullivan's "The Mikado," directed by Alan Freeman, will open the 31st season of the Occidental Theater Festival Saturday, July 14, at 8:30 p.m. in the Remsen Bird Hillside Theater.

"The Mikado" will repeat Sunday, July 15, a and nine additional performances in July and August. Two preview performances are scheduled for Thursday, July 12, and Friday, July 13. All performances begin at 8:30 p.m.

For reservations and information, call the box office at (213) 259-2772.

'Indian Givers . . .'

Dr. Jack Weatherford, author of "Indian Givers, How the Indians of the Americas Transformed the World" will give a lecture at the Southwest Museum on Thursday evening, July 19, at 7:30 p.m. Professor of anthropology at Macalester College, St. Paul, Minn. Dr. Weatherford will discuss the basic concept presented in his recent book — that the native cultures of the Americas revolutionized world civilization and would have transformed it even more had American Indian knowledge not been ignored and then destroyed.

Dr. Weatherford's lecture will be presented in the museum's Norman F. Sprague Jr. Gallery. General admission is $10 (museum members $8). Reservations are required so please call (213) 221-2164.

'Very Special' arts exhibit

A "Very Special" art exhibition will be held on Thursday, July 19 from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the Hanson Gallery, 323 N. Rodeo Dr. in Beverly Hills. The work of more than 150 handicapped children and adults will be on display and for sale. Proceeds from the sales will go directly to the artists and to Very Special Arts California for the 28 VSA sites throughout California that organize year-round programs including 32 arts festivals annually.

VSA CA is a nonprofit organization dedicated to enriching and empowering the lives of children and adults with disabilities through the arts.

For further information on the gallery exhibition or any other VSA program, call VSA CA at (213) 803-6504.

Milbre Burch to appear at S.M. Library

By Gwen Evans

Professional storyteller, Milbre Burch, will be appearing at the Sierra Madre Public Library on Wednesday, July 18 at 10 a.m. The program will take place in the adult room of the library and both adults and children are invited to attend. Children under 5 years of age must be accompanied by an adult. This special program is generously sponsored by the Sierra Madre Volunteer Fire Department and there is no admission charge.

Originally trained as an actor/mine, Milbre Burch is a nationally known storyteller who has been performing professionally since 1978. She has appeared in many storytelling festivals including ones in California, Texas, Florida, and Hawaii as well as in the National Storytelling Festival. Her work has been praised by the New York Times, Mother Earth News, and the National Storytelling Journal among others.

She has taught storytelling at all age levels and at conferences across the nation. She incorporates language and movement into stories of all types as well as original monologue works.

Please join us for a very fascinating morning. The Sierra Madre Public Library is located at 440 W. Sierra Madre Blvd. For more information, please call Cathy Ryne, Children's Librarian, at 355-7186 during library open hours.

On Sunday, July 15, the 28th anniversary of Pastor Dick Anderson's ordination, at the 8:15, 9:45 and 11:15 a.m. services, Pastor Anderson will be speaking on the topic "Eyes Like A Flame of Fire," using Revelation 2:18-29 as his Biblical reference.

In our text this week, Jesus describes Himself as the One who has "eyes like a flame of fire." Can you imagine what he has in mind for the church of Thyatira to whom He is writing? Eyes like a flame of fire are intense and piercing. Such eyes get your attention quickly. You cannot hid from God who has eyes like this. And the eyes of Jesus could see a woman in the church who was teaching and leading members astray into immortality.

Today, there are similar people who call themselves "prophets" and lead people astray. As in the early church, we are not to tolerate women, or men who teach false doctrine and lead people into snares of immortality. Judgment is beginning with the household of God. Let's all "clean up our acts" and get on with living lives of holiness. Christlikeness is our goal.

Sunday evening at 6 p.m. will be an exciting time. There will be a recap of the Heart for the Harvest Seminar which will be held on Friday night and Saturday morning (13th and 14th), applying it to our situation here at SMCC. Putting good ideas into action is what it's all about, so a workshop type of program will be application of principles learned.

We are also privileged to have Ed Silvoso of Harvest Evangelism with us. The Argentina Project, "Resistencia" has caught our interest since Brian Anderson, Pastor Dick's son, is part of this special thrust. We will be looking forward to Rev. Silvoso's message.

Gloria Dei

The sermon theme next Sunday at Gloria Dei Evangelical Lutheran Church at 186 W. Highland Ave. in Sierra Madre is "Lessons in Forgiveness." It is based on John 8:1-11. Sunday School will follow. You are invited to be our guests. Vacation Bible School is July 16-20, 9-11:30 a.m.

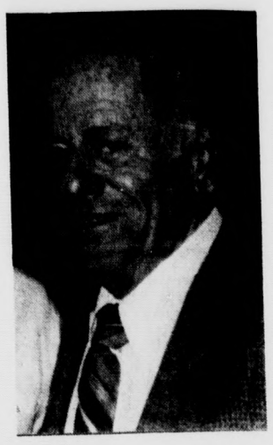

Children grow up so fast. One day a baby all caught up in the wonder of simply being. Before you know it, the child is an adult . . . ready or not.

During those growing years parents have awesome responsibilities. In addition to physical, emotional and spiritual needs, there is the matter of instilling a sense of worth in our children. What could be more tragic that children growing up not knowing their worth.

Let them know how precious they are. Our Vacation Bible School is designed to help parents reinforce this truth.

Obituaries

Anthony (Tony) DePasco

Funeral mass was recited at St. Rita's Catholic Church Monday for Anthony P. (Tony) De Pasco. Interment was at Resurrection Cemetery Tuesday, July 10.

Mr. DePasco, a longtime resident of Sierra Madre, died July 4.

Mr. DePasco was born in Kansas City, Mo. in 1904.

He was a member of the LaSallian Ambassadors, the Serra Club of Pasadena, Third and Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus, a retreat captain and vice president at Mater Dolorosa Retreat Center and a DOM (volunteer) at Santa Teresita Hospital.

He worked as a merchandizer for 60 years with the Liggett Drug Company and then with a drug company in Kansas City, Mo. and Chicago, Ill. He joined Southern Wine and Spirits in Southern California and retired in 1980 at the age of 75 years.

Survivors include his wife, June; daughters, Catherine Kathol and Barbara Vogt; stepsons, Gerald W. and Brian S. Smith; stepdaughter, Diane Aery; brothers, Lou, Nick and Al DePasco; sister, Josephine Brown; 13 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Harry Caskey

Native Sierra Madrean Harry Caskey passed away July 3 at age 87.

He was born Sept. 5, 1902 and was a grandson of Civil War veteran Alexander Lynn Caskey who settled in Sierra Madre circa 1900. Mr. Caskey lived in Sierra Madre until his retirement to Escondido, Calif. in 1967. He was a scoutmaster here for many years and a member of the Congregational Church.

He is survived by his wife, Juanita, of Escondido.

Bethany

By Al Elby

Last week we started telling you about false assumptions made during a lifetime. God gaves us the Scriptures so that we could see exactly what He promised. This week we will give four examples of wrong thinking.

First assumption, a man like Jesus who did such great things shouldn't have died, and not died so young. Bad thinking. His primary reason for coming was to die, to atone for your sins and mine. Sure, He performed miracles, healed the sick, mended needy lives, assuaged hurts, encouraged the discouraged and a million and one othr wonderful things — but that's not why he came.

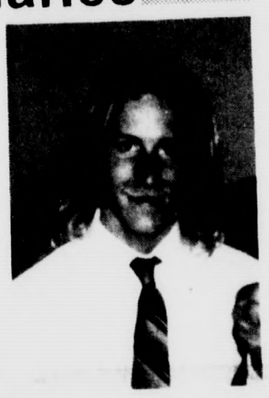

Secondly, the greatest people have the greatest number of servants. Terrible theology. Jesus said that the greatest thing that you can do is serve others. Corporate America has told us that we must be ruthless and step on people if we are to succeed. Jesus' way to the top, you must serve people and then those you served will support you in your efforts.

Third assumption, you must follow Jesus "my way" or you're wrong. The way we follow is incidental to the fact that we follow. God is now going to ask us our theology or check out our style of worship. He'll ask us if accepted Christ as Savior and what did we do in His name?

Lastly, it's smart to avoid pain and suffering. Make sense? Wrong. Scripture is replete with the fact that if we are faithful to Christ, we will fall prey to suffering. Stand for Christ and you'll stand against the ways of the world and this brings suffering upon us. This is not pleasant but Jesus was a realist and recognized the lot of the Christian. Here are just four examples of false assumptions and you know of many more. The bottom line is read the Bible and get the right scoop on "your" false assumptions. Don't play around because a loss here can be "fatal."

Obituaries

Jon Randall Enmark

Memorial services were held Monday, July 9, for Jon Randall Enmark, 25, at Pierce Mortuary in Napa Valley. Jon died July 6 following a fall while he was watching July 4 fireworks with friends.

Jon was born Mar. 1, 1965. He attended Pasadena High School and served for several years with the California Conservation Corps. In recent years he lived in Calistoga in Napa Valley where he was employed as a tree trimmer.

Besides his parents, Harry Enmark of Sierra Madre and Carole Enmark of Yreka, survivors include a sister, Catherine Enmark of Sierra Madre, a sister Michelle Black of Medford, Ore; and two nieces, Adrianne and Chelsea Black; two uncles, John Ronge of Monrovia and Dave Enmark of Covina; grandmothers, Josephine Enmark of Glendora and Edna Ronge of Monrovia.

Those who wish to remember Jon with a memorial should consider giving a donation to the Sierra Madre Library.

St. Rita's

The following is a copy of a letter received from Cardinal Pio Taofinu'u, who has the dubious distinction of being archbishop to the poorest see in the world, Samoa. They have recently suffered a disastrous hurricane that devastated almost the whole country. The letter is in response to a donation sent to him from St. Rita's Parish.

"I am greatly appreciative for your generous donation which arrived here on the 6th of the month. This is a sign of your ongoing concern for our needs. I am grateful.

"I feel that this increases our debt — indeed, a happy debt — to you and your parishioners. Knowing your own service of faith, I feel encouraged to accept our own situation according to the Lord's plan. It is great to be a Christian and a Catholic where we express our unity in Christ in various ways.

"I promise that our people and I myself do pray for you, for all you have done and are still doing to enhance us at this time of trial.

"We are busy with our rehabilitation program; however, there is a shortage of food all over. Nevertheless, we trust in Providence to sustain us for our needs.

"Once again, thank you, Monsignor, and all your supporters for your generosity.

Your servant in Christ,
Cardinal Pio Taofinu'u
Archbishop of Samoa-Apia

Days and evenings of recollection

On the third Wednesday of each month, Mater Dolorosa Retreat Center (700 N. Sunnyside, Sierra Madre) offers two programs. "A Day of Recollecion for Seniors," from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. includes mass and talks by the Passionist staff. Lunch is included. "An Evening of Recollection" from 5 p.m. to 9 p.m., open to men and women, includes mass and talks by the Passionist staff. Dinner is included.

There is no set charge for the programs; a free-will donation will be accepted. The remaining dates for this summer are July 18 and Aug. 15. For further information and to make reservations, please call the Retreat Center at 355-7188.

United Methodist

By Rev. Rich LaShure

Many persons are willing to admit that they have a fear of flying to counselors, ministers, family or friends. But how many of us will admit that we have a deep-seated fear of happiness?

When one is a member of a family or a partner on a marriage where there is alcohol/drug abuse, the temptation is strong to accept the unacceptable and to forgive the unforgivable.

Drugs impair brain function, particularly memory of recent events and the ability to plan for the future. When addiction is acute, the sufferer is able to think of little else but the next drink or fix.

Co-dependents of alcoholics, especially children, learn not to expect too much in the future. Happy plans are frequently canceled at the last minute. "We can't go on the trip because Daddy is sick." Even if they do not graduate into substance abuse themselves, the children of abusers may come to mistrust their own happy times, as it were, waiting for the other shoe to drop.

Ex-smokers help others to quit

A three-hour training program for ex-smokers who want to teach others how to stop smoking will be offered by the American Cancer Society from 9 a.m. to noon, Saturday, July 21, at the society's San Gabriel/Pomona Valleys Unit, 50 N. Hill Ave., Pasadena.

Those who have successfully kicked the habit will be trained to lead ACS "Fresh Start" smoking cessation programs, which ACS Health Educator Lilia Montes describes as a "straightforward, no-nonsense quit smoking program."

"Fresh Start consists of four one-hour sessions held during a two-week period in which the former smoker teaches about 12 to 15 smokers proven techniques to help them quit smoking," Montes said.

To sign up for the training program and to receive more information call the San Gabriel/Pomona Valleys Unit of the American Cancer Society, (818) 795-7774, (213) 681-4507, or (714) 620-7166.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF:
TWILA FAITH WISELY
CASE NO. BP001393

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of Twila Faith Wisely:

A PETITION has been filed by Brent W. Wisely in the Superior Court of California, County of Los Angeles.

THE PETITION requests that: Brent W. Wisely be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests the decedent's WILL and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held on July 31, 1990, at 9:15 a.m., in Dept. 5 located at 111 North Hill Street, Los Angeles, CA 90012.

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the deceased, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within four months from the date of first issuance of letters as provided in section 9100 of the California Probate Code. The time for filing claims will not expire before four months from the hearing date noticed above.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a formal Request for Special Notice of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in section 1250 of the California Probate Code. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

Jeanne M. Davidson, Monrovia chiropractor.

Monrovia chiropractor former Methodist R.N.

Monrovia chiropractor Jeanne Davidson appears at the door in a crisp white pant suit, the perfect vision on a torrid summer afternoon. She explains that the office is a mess and will look better within a week.

A former R.N. at Arcadia Methodist Hospital's Coronary Care Unit, she has been practicing chiropractic medicine in Monrovia during the past few years because it's a practice that she thoroughly believes in.

"My mother suffered from a severe bad back at the early age of 33. She had surgery and I didn't see that much improvement. I was determined to study chiropractic medicine. I am sure that her surgery could have been prevented," she said as she presented various books of literature on care for the body.

"The body needs gentle exercise, walking, stretching and swimming. Along with a low fat, balanced diet, one need not be unhealthy. Our bodies were not meant to carry weight or to be subjected to the agonies of jogging and heavy exercise. Simplicity is the answer," said the young doctor.

A newlywed, she met her husband, Peter, in her office. "He was selling physical therapy products, and I became a good customer," she chuckled. "Now we like prime time together riding bikes, hiking and playing tennis." She enjoys playing the piano and working with light weights. She also wants to be involved in the community.

Born and reared in Alhambra, Davidson's sister is also a registered nurse. "Medicine seems to run in our family," she quipped.

Davidson's main concern is to teach people to take care of themselves. Her skill and techniques along with teaching good habits and wellness can help those with back problems, joint aches and other major pain areas to live in better harmony with the body.

"I do believe that a chiropractor is the only modern health professional specifically trained in spinal adjustments," she concluded.

Open Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. and available for emergencies. For further information, call 357-2580.

Fragments

This morning, in the mail, was a wonderful postcard from a friend whom I had met several years ago in Mexico.

I had taken an adventurous solo trip to San Miguel de Allende that one summer. Richard and Maria Merrill operated a cooking school there and had invited me to come visit.

Arriving at the airport in Mexico City, I had yet to take a bus to San Miguel de Allende. I found an old, rickity one with arrows pointing to large red letters "San Miguel de Allende." What a relief!

I was the only American on the bus! The driver, a very polite and rugged cowboy type, pointed to the seat behind him, stating that it would be my seat. As we traveled treacherous mountain roads, he sipped on warm soda and chain-smoked, watching me through his rear view mirror. Every now and then, he'd sing Mexican ballads and everyone would join in.

I felt my hair tugging from beneath my straw hat. Little nips up and down my neck. I turned around only to find a chicken sitting on a farmer's lap pecking at my hair. "Muy caliente," said my neighbor next to me. Yes, it was a very hot and long ride.

Arriving in San Miguel, I visited the Instituto Allende where I met Julie. She welcomed me to the area and told me that she was from Berkeley. We became instant friends and were to spend two wonderful weeks visiting with her friends and instructors at the school where she was studying sculpting.

The Merrills were delightful hosts. We walked the cobblestone streets and dined on some native dishes prepared by Maria.

The open markes were a delight and seeing the works of James Pinto, one of Mexico's most brilliant artists, was thrilling for this small town girl. We disco danced till dawn and had breakfast in the park: freshly baked sweet rolls and dynamite black coffee.

The postcard from Julie, now married, says, "How I miss Mexico." I do too . . .

Linda Zoolalian

Pianist realizes worth of practicing led her to travel

While most children were outdoors roller skating or spending playtime together after school or during summer, Linda Zoolalian was indoors practicing piano. It was not an unpleasant task for the youngster because she was doing something she loved.

Starting piano lessons with her mother, Denise, at the early age of 5, six months later she started classes with her first professional piano instructor. A few years later, when her talent became quite obvious, she studied with one of the foremost piano teachers in the Los Angeles area, Earle Voorhies of South Pasadena. She studied with Voorhies for eight years.

During that time she entered competitions and won a number of first prizes each year. As she showed talent for competition, she was accepted at the age of 10 into the Junior Original Concerts, funded by Yamaha Corporation. She studied composition, music theory and improvisation until she was 16.

In 1982, one of Linda's original compositions was selected from among 30,000 submitted worldwide. She traveled to Japan where she played her winning composition and had an opportunity to have a master class with Mstislav Rostropovich, the illustrious cellist and conductor of the Washington Symphony.

A member of the Tuesday Musicale Juniors of Pasadena, she has written and performed several pieces including a concerto for piano and orchestra, a piano trio, a rhapsody for alto saxophone and piano and several piano pieces.

As an Epstein Scholar since 1985, her music studies have been partially underwritten by an on-going grant from the Epstein Foundation through the Boys Club of America. She was the first female to be accorded this honor.

The young pianist has performed throughout the United States, including Boston, Minneapolis, Phoenix, Atlanta and Los Angeles. She has played with the Los Angeles Philharmonic Institute and the Brentwood/Westwood Symphony orchestras.

Several weeks ago, she gave a recital in Wright Auditorium at the Pasadena Library. Zoolalian is a junior and on the dean's list at New England Conservatory of Music in Boston and is presently with the Aspen Music Festival.

Monrovia Business Expo planned for September

Preparations are now in progress for the largest Business Expo in Monrovia Chamber of Commerce history to be scheduled this fall with more than 100 exhibitors expected to participate.

The September event will feature in addition to booths displaying the products and services of local commercial and industrial firms, an Auto Expo for local dealers and a Taste-of-the-Town provided by community restaurants.

The expo will be free to the public from noon to 4 p.m. on Sept. 18, with a charge for the Taste-of-the-Town to begin at 4 p.m.

Swimming time available in Monrovia

There's a lot of splashing going on at the Monrovia High School pool. It's far from the ol' swimming hole that many of us were accustomed to. The sparkling, recently built pool has been one of this summer's most popular recreation place for many community youngsters and their families.

Swimming time is from 1 to 4 p.m. on Monday through Friday, Wednesday evenings from 7 to 9 p.m., Saturday and Sundays, 1 to 5 p.m.

Children from the ages of 5 to 18 are encouraged to participate in the Competitive Swim Program. It all takes place from Monday through Friday from 4 to 6:30 p.m.

An Aquafest is scheduled for Wednesday, July 25, at 5 p.m. Youths 16 and under will have the opportunity to join in on exciting water games, a Balloon Push, T-shirt Relay, Egg Push, Ring Diving and much more.

Do keep in mind that when afternoons get torrid and there's no relief in sight, head for the Monrovia High School pool at 845 W. Colorado Blvd., Monrovia. For more information, call 357-5046 or 357-8595.

Bartolai introduces suggestion

I am well aware of and very grateful for the tremendous amount of work and effort that goes into membership on appointive boards."

Bartolai also said he thought that this rule may not work for committees since in Sierra Madre they tend to be quite small and efficient. "If we were to clear out mayor-appointed committees every year, the coordination would not continue as efficiently as it does now." Several small committees in Sierra Madre do their work so well that they more or less take care of their own purging.

Now it's up to the council to decide whether or not to go along with Bartolai's suggestion.

Armida Baylon

Baylon expands services of local drapery business

Armida Baylon, who recently purchased Mel and Allen Draperies at 610 S. First Ave. in Arcadia, has added a full line of furniture and full design service, including space planning and color coordinating, to the drapery business that has served the San Gabriel Valley for almost 20 years.

Baylon, who feels that it is important to decorate so that what she does reflects her clients and their lifestyles, accepts entire home assignments as well as single room projects and works with both residential and commercial jobs. She also consults on new construction, assisting with selection of such things as tiles, floors, faucets, closets and cabinets.

She says that one can't really go by something that is "in" because it is important to transend the trendy look so that ones home "reflects you, not trends of the day." Personally, she favors an eclectic blend of the traditional with a contemporary feel.

A business major from Cal State Los Angeles, this Texas native began working in the interior design field 12 years ago in Monterey Park and worked with her own Blind Ambition shop in Pasadena for five years.

She likes to read, garden, travel and keep up with her two daughters, a 20-year-old Mt. SAC student and a 10-year-old fourth grader.

Rodeffer Reclamation plan approved for Lower Azusa quarry site

In compliance with the Surface Mining and Reclamation Act, Rodeffer Investments of Fountain Valley filed a reclamation plan for a sand and gravel quarry it has operated on Lower Azusa Road and the San Gabriel River Freeway (605) since 1967. Over the objections voiced by nine individuals who spoke at last week's Arcadia City Council meeting, the plan was approved 4-0, with Councilman Charles Gilb absent.

In approving the plan it was pointed out that Rodeffer was abiding by the law and that what had been approved was a plan, not a permit to do anything specific with the 85-acre property which is abutted by quarrying operations to the north, a flood control channel and freeway to the east, vacant industrial land and Lower Azusa Road to the south and a horse trail and El Monte homes to the west.

Most of the objection to the plan had to do with traffic, water contamination, health and safety and environmental impact. Even interference with migratory wildlife was mentioned as a concern.

However, before Rodeffer would actually do anything in the way of a landfill, a conditional use request would have to be approved by the City Council. Before that was done any environmental issues, including public health, welfare and safety, would be resolved, explained Councilman Robert Harbicht.

Harbicht also said that the objections voiced were irrelevant to the issue before the council. He explained that the law prevents miners from walking away from such pits as the 160 foot deep hole at the Rodeffer site and requires repair of the land.

Rodeffer's reclamation plan is to restore the site to an essentially level condition by backfilling with suitable inert solid materials pursuant to all city, county, state and Federal requirements and to utilize the lands after reclamation for light industrial use developed compatible with surrounding residential uses and accommodating the extension of existing equestrial trails.

LOCAL RECEPTION FOR EU — Secretary of State Candidate March Fong Eu, center, was guest of honor at a fund-raising reception host by Arcadians Min Mey and Sheng Chang. Eu, who faces a challenger in her bid for a fifth term, said that her problem is that so many people say she has "no problem" with her re-election bid.

Rotary honors Helms Clough, Christensen

George Clough, James Helms Jr. and Laura Christensen received special recognition at Arcadia Rotary Club's 64th annual installation held recently at the University Club in Pasadena.

The 27th annual H.T. Michler Rotarian Award for continuous meritorious service to Rotary was presented to Clough, now a member of the local service club and former president of Wilshire Rotary.

Helms is the 14th recipient of the Alton E. Scott Community Service Award which recognizes service to the community through the Chamber of Commerce, the Tournament of Roses Association and other local activities and organizations.

The John R. Fee New Member Award, honoring a member of two years or less who has contributed significantly to club objectives, was presented to Christensen who headed the club's Rotary Youth Leadership Awards program.

Ernie Jensen was installed as club president.

Fun excursions planned by Arcadia Rec. Dept.

Three excursions for the month of July have been planned by the Arcadia Recreation Department.

On Friday, July 13, a supervised bus excursion will take participants to Knott's Berry Farm in Buena Park. Cost for infants, 1 to 2 years is $4, while all others pay $17 per person.

Raging Waters in San Dimas will be the destination of a trip on Friday, July 20. The $11.50 fee for 4-10 years and $14.50 for those 11 and over includes transportation and admission to 44 acres of water adventures, including Wave Cove, Rampage, and Drop Out water slides.

A bus trip to Magic Mountain in Valencia is planned for Friday, July 27. The $4.50 fee for 1- to 2-year-olds and $22 for all others includes transportation, admission, supervision and all attractions, including Sarajevo, Colossus, Shockwave, Ninja, Black Belt and the new Viper.

The recreation department will provide supervision at a ratio of one supervisor to each group of 10 children, 7 to 17 years of age. Children under 7 must be accompanied by an adult.

Registration will be taken on a first-come, first-served basis, dependent upon receipt of fee. Telephone reservations cannot be accepted.

Register at the Arcadia Recreation Department office, 240 W. Huntington Dr., weekdays from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

For further information call the recreation department at 574-5432.

School district asks parents to enroll new students early

In order to get a better handle on school enrollment for next year, the Arcadia Unified School District is urging parents to enroll student new to the district and first-time kindergartners.

Registration may be handled weekdays from 7:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. through Aug. 14 at the district office, 234 Campus Dr.

Each of the school sites will open Aug. 15, and after that time registrations will be accepted at the neighborhood schools.

In order to register new students, proof of residence (i.e., a utility bill), birth certificate or passport and immunization record are required; and for secondary students, a copy of the last report card is needed.

For students previously enrolled in the AUSD, registration and class assignments will be mailed prior to the opening of school on Thursday, Sept. 6.

DAFFERN & ASSOCIATES GRAND OPENING — Surrounding Fred Daffern, owner of Daffern & Associates at 20 E. Foothill Blvd. are Chamber Ambassador Ed Partridge, Mayor Pro Tem Charles Gilb, Arcadia Queen Jenny Chen, Kathy McCallum, Sung-Chul Chong, Pete Lepp, Phyllis Golden, Marc Ramos, Victor Castros, past chamber president Carl Reinhardt and chamber membership representative Joe Miller.

Caren Laing

Caren Laing tapped PTA prexy at Highland Oaks

With the theme "Pulling Together," Caren Laing was installed as president of the Highland Oaks Elementary School PTA during a program at the home of former president Keppie Sullivan.

Laing has been involved in PTA at Highland Oaks as secretary, room representative, room mother, and chairman of the carnival, hospitality, newsette, book fair and art and poster committees. At Foothills Junior High she has been involved with White Christmas, procedure books and the ninth grade graduation party.

She also is a member of the Methodist Hospital Auxiliary, former president of the Arcadia Junior Woman's Club and a four-year Girl Scout leader.

This San Gabriel High School graduate earned a B.A. in English and an M.S. in second education from Cal State Los Angeles.

She and her husband, John, have three children: Kimberly, a ninth grader; Lindsey, fifth; and Shannon, second.

Other officers installed by Peggy Bray were Margie Romano, first vice president; Jan McEachern, second vice president; Suzie Bonholtzer, third vice president; Gail Jensen, fourth vice president; Chris McLain, fifth vice president; Susie Stauff and Eileen Horsman, sixth vice president; Rose Litty, recording secretary; Chris Rodriguez, corresponding secretary; Kathy Kimball, auction; Lee Segal and Sharon Briffett, book fair; Teddi Efstathiou and Karen Conrad, carnival; Elizabeth Mandato, treasurer; Denise Moore, historian; Shelly Romo, parliamentarian; and Coyla Grumm, auditor.

Senior Men celebrate 16th year

The Arcadia Senior Men's Club recently celebrated its 16th anniversary when 80 members and guests gathered at Assistance League of Arcadia's Community House.

Al Aschenbrener is the current president of the group which meets each Monday to promote good fellowship as well as provide interesting programs and activities for its members.

Guests at the anniversary celebration included Esther Reynoso, information and referral coordinator for Arcadia's Senior Services; Rose Hassing, supervisor of Senior Services; Julie Hopf, chairman of the Senior Citizens Commission; and Barbara Saelid, president of Assistance League of Arcadia, co-sponsor of three local senior clubs.

Police detain suspect

Edward Villasana of Baldwin Park was arrested by the Arcadia Police Department last week on suspicion of armed robbery at First Avenue Florists, 200 S. First Ave.

At 2:04 p.m. on Tuesday, July 3, the police department responded to the report of theft of an undetermined amount of cash. The suspect had been seen going east on Bonita Avenue in a small grey sedan, and he turned into the parking lot at Jerri Ann's Liquor Store at 210 E. Duarte Rd. where he stopped his vehicle and ran east over a wall into a residential area.

A permimeter was established by Arcadia and Monrovia Police Units as officers searched the area, assisted by air support from Pasadena Police Department's PD 1 helicopter.

After running out of a backyard in the 400 block of Robbins Dr., the suspect described as a male Hispanic in his 30s, 5'9" and husky with hair combed back "cholo style," mustache and wearing grey shorts and tank top, was taken into custody by officers, according to Sgt. Harry Herhiley of the Arcadia Police Department.

Park meets with scholars, achievers

It may have been disappointing not to be able to meet President George Bush, but for David Park, Arcadia High School valedictorian, it was probably the only downer during two successive weekend trips as an outstanding high school graduate.

Within hours after graduating with the highest grade point average in AHS history, he and his family went to Washington, D.C. where he met 140 other Presidential Scholars. He said it was disappointing not to meet the President, but he did hear several other interesting speakers, including author Tom Clancy, and saw the table where the Declaration of Independence was signed.

The following weekend, Park went to Chicago, Illinois where 450 students were recognized at the 1990 American Academy of Achievement Annual Salute to Excellence. Again the speaker list was interesting, said Park, who heard from such diverse achievers as Ronald Reagan, Hal Holbrook, Sidney Sheldon, Michael Jordan and George Lucas.

It impressed Park to be able to mingle with such notables, and he points in particular to his surprise when he realized his table mate was the winner of a Nobel Prize in physics.

While in Chicago, Park was able to see the Claude Monet exhibit at the Chicago Institute of Art.

Park said he felt honored to be one of the only two Californians selected as academic Presidential Scholars and was impressed with how many of the honorees were going to the most prestigious universities. Twenty-six are going to Harvard, and six are going to Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where Park will be headed the end of August.

Meanwhile he is working as a research intern in the department of radiation oncology at the City of Hope, and he is playing the cello with the Pasadena Summer Youth Chamber Orchestra.

Annual Baby Show set for July 19

The Arcadia Recreation Department will sponsor its 19th Annual Baby Show on Thursday, July 19 at Eisenhower Park, located on the corner of Second Ave and Colorado Blvd. in Arcadia.

Registration will begin at 9:30 a.m. prior to the start of judging at 10 a.m.

The contest is limited to Arcadia residents or to children who reside within the Arcadia Unified School District. Children must be at least six months of age and may not have reached their third birthday. All contestants must be accompanied by an adult.

Each participants will be judged in age divisions for such things as bluest eyes with lightest hair, longest eyelashes, widest smile, curliest hair and deepest dimples. Additionally, a prince and princess will be selected from each division.

Judging will be done by members of the Arcadia Junior Women's Club.

Gifts will be donated by Carousel Baby Furniture, DyDee Diaper Service, Penny's Six Photos, Gerber Baby Products and Gymboree.

For more information, call the recreation department office at 574-5432.

Scott , Steckenrider, Hopp become city board members

Oaths of office were administered to JoAnn Scott as incoming member of the Library Board, to Janie Steckenrider as incoming member of the Senior Citizens' Commission and to Barbara Hopp, incoming member of the Sister City Commission, at last week's meeting of the Arcadia City Council.

Ruth Gilb and Barbara Saelid received presentations from the council in recognition of their service to the Sister City Commission.

In other action, the council approved a zone change for multiple-family zone with automobile parking zone to general commercial zone for properties at 311-325 E. Live Oak Ave., 2616 S. Third Ave., area east of Third and west of Fourth Avenues.

A discussion on the Arcadia Redevelopment Agency's Northwest Corner proposal was postponed to a study session at 5:30 p.m. on Tuesday, July 17.

The council also approved a request determining that a convenience store, i.e., Quick Mart, is compatible with other uses in the CPD-1 zone.

Hints given on how to curtail water use

Because of less-than-normal rainfall for the last several years, Southern Californians are being urged to cut back on their use of water.

To ease this continuing drought situation and to curtail water use, Eldon Davidson, water manager for the city of Arcadia, offers several ideas for voluntary consumer action: adjust sprinklers and irrigation systems to avoid overspray, runoff and waste; avoid watering during the hot part of the day and on windy days; install new drought resistant landscaping and efficient irrigation systems; and shut off decorative fountains unless a water recycling system is used.

Other conservation tips include: install pool and spa covers to minimize water loss due to evaporation; do not hose down driveways, sidewalks or other paved surfaces; do not allow the use to run while washing the car; retrofit indoor plumbing fixtures with low flow devices; do not allow water to run while shaving or brushing teeth; and inspect and repair all leaky faucets, toilets and pipes.

To assist consumers in properly reducing water use, water conservation kits and brochures are available in the Water Division office at Arcadia City Hall, 240 W. Huntington Dr.

Kaycee Fortanasce

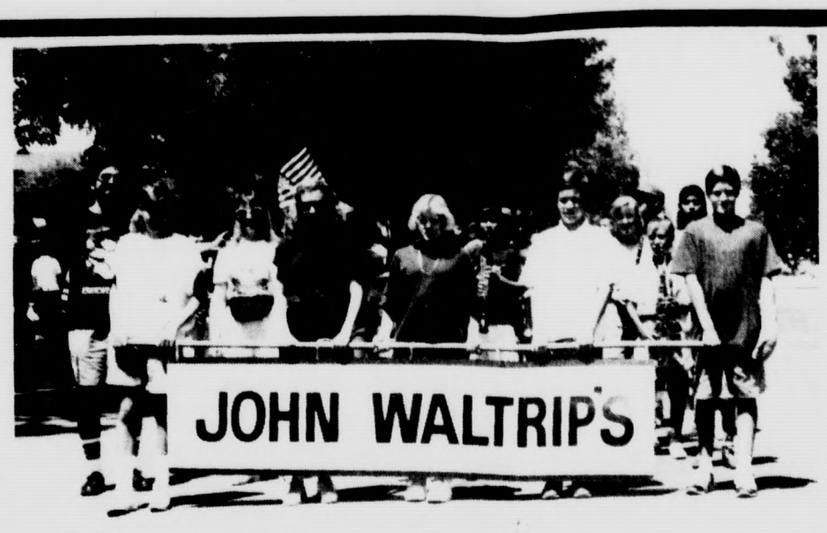

Fortanasce wins back-to-back titles

When 14-year-old Kaycee Fortanasce won the Spring National Red Dragon Grand Reserve Championship in karate in April, it was an amazing feat for a young girl who at the age of 4 was striken with Reyes Syndrome. But when she won the Summer Nationals Grand Reserve Championship on Father's Day she went into the record books as the only girl to win back-to-back titles.

She took first place in both musical kata and kata and second in weapons; however, after winning her first four matches in sparring she lost to a "pretty big guy" and fell to third place amongst 18 boys in the fighting phase of the karate competition.

This St. Rita School graduate will spend her summer working out about four times a week at a karate studio in Claremont and will go to summer school to review for starting high school at Flintridge Sacred Heart in the fall. She also wants to find time to join a tennis club and/or a swim team.

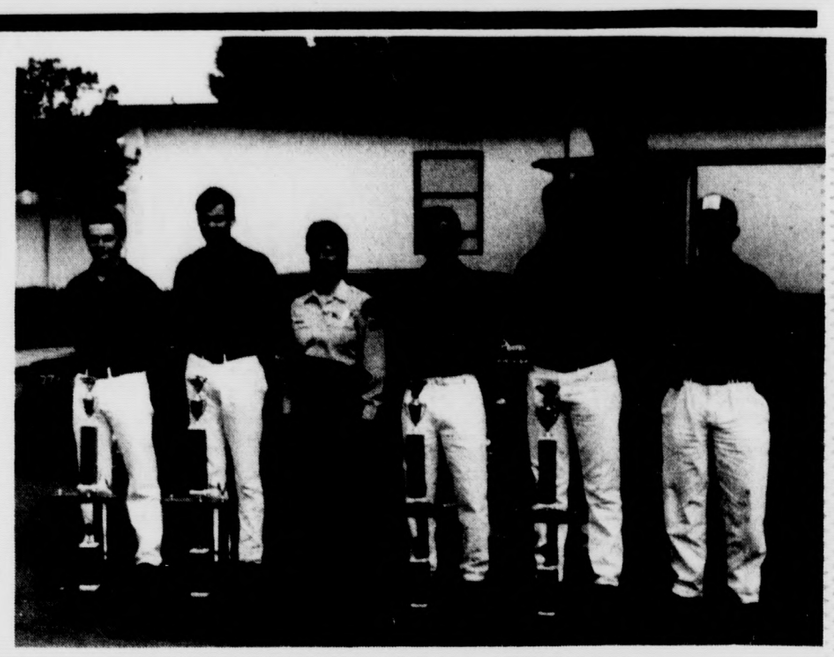

This Pasadena resident, daughter of a local neurologist, Vincent Fortanasce, has plans for a family reunion trip to New York as well as some time for beach and tennis in La Jolla and the next karate competition which will take place in August.

John Waltrip's Music Center was represented in the July 4 parade in Sierra Madre with this lively band.

The Santa Anita YMCA Indians made their way down Sierra Madre Blvd. during the July 4 parade in Sierra Madre.

Safety run participants live in Arcadia, Monrovia; win outstanding prizes

Members of the Arcadia and Monrovia Police Explorers were among the participants in the 37th consecutive Youth Safety Run sponsored by the Police Advisory Council for Car Clubs.

The run, which promotes sportsmanship and fairness among the participants through the main goal of gas economy, began in the early morning hours on Monday, June 25 from the city of Huntington Park.

From there, participants drove to Yosemite National Park along a specified route of travel, returning to Huntington Park on the third day.

Each entry is manned by three participants, ages 16-20. The driver is responsible for 60 percent of the driving; the co-driver is asked to do 40 percent of the driving; and the independent observer notes any infractions of the Vehicle Code or the run rules.

Darold Brown of the Arcadia Police Explorers won second place as an observer while Matthew Cash and Kevin Pierce, both from the Monrovia Police Explorers, won eighth and ninth place honors as observers, respectively.

Arcadia Explorer Will Hooker, driving a Plymouth Horizon from Pasadena Chrysler Plymouth sponsored by the Arcadia Lions Club won the first place in the 2.2 liter, four cylinder class.

With Brandon Dean as driver and John Arellano co-driver, the Arcadia Explorers captured fourth place in the same class with Sierra Pontiac's Grand Am.

Becherer Buick in Monrovia and Crown Oldsmobile in Pasadena also provided cars for the run, which is co-sponsored by the Arcadia Civitan Club, Dan Querrey Racking Inc. of Irwindale, the Automobile Club of Southern California and Atlantic Richfield Company. Arcadia entries were sponsored by the Lions Club, Kiwanis Club and Civitan Club.

Yankees win Tourn. of Champions

The 1990 Yankees, led by manager Ron Schwartz, is the first Sierra Madre team in the history of the city to win a Tournament of Champions game. The Yankees, whose season record of 14 wins, three losses and three ties as well as two playoff wins gained them the title of City Champs, played and won their first tournament game against Central Pasadena.

Their second game against West Arcadia was a loss.

The Yankee team included Raymond Contino, center field; Joe Cowell, second base; Tommy Griffith, third base; Sean Grimes, left field; Justin Klier, catcher; Erick (Rocky) McGoldrick, short stop; Marcus Mendoza, left field; Greg Miller, first base and relief pitcher; George Moran, pitcher; Robert Quigley, right field. Next year, the team's eight 12-year-olds will be moving up to Pony League.
